Press Release

For Immediate Release

G8/G20 My Summit 2010, Canada

Young Advisor Steven Cheung along with six other youth ambassadors from across the British Isles has been selected by the Canadian government to attend MY SUMMIT 2010, an official youth summit being held alongside the G8 and G20 summit this June to represent Young people in the United Kingdom. The G8 component of MY SUMMIT 2010 will be held in Muskoka, Ontario from June 23 – 25. The G20 portion of MY SUMMIT 2010 will be held in Toronto from June 26 – 27.

“Due to the influence and power of the G20 nations, my summit 2010 is chance to discuss a number of social, political and economic issues. While I’m almost certain the youth delegates will differ on certain problem, solution and policies, but our overall agendas are the same – To build a better future for us and generation to come.

My personal motivations to participate in My Summit 2010, first of all is to learn from others and share our good practices here in the United Kingdom, as someone who came from a incredibly diverse background, and have experience working with government ministers and departments, local governments and third sector organisations (specially youth related). I would like to break down barriers, and learn from the other delegates their cultural backgrounds and how they deal with problems, how they learn from mistake and the solutions.” said Steven during a meeting in the British Youth Council.

The Canadian youth delegation has prepared a preliminary draft of the MY SUMMIT 2010 Communiqué that will be shared with G8 Leaders on June 25, 2010. This draft follows the themes of discussion outlined in the program. During the plenary sessions we will hear from leading experts who will share their experiences working in the area and generate discussion. During the negotiating session ambassadors from the G8 countries will benefit from the advice of facilitators who themselves have undertaken complex negotiations on the given themes. Steven anticipates that there will be lively discussions on this document during the negotiating sessions during which there will be language added and removed. The final document will provide G8 Leaders with a clear vision of the consensus of views of MY SUMMIT 2010 delegates.

Steven will be the lead negotiator of United Kingdom for Global Economy recovery, Nuclear Non-Proliferation and Terrorism.
